COURSE SYLLABUS ADDENDUM

Important - Please Read - Do Not Discard

It is each student's responsibility to read all course materials, including course syllabus and addendum, and to know and understand the course requirements, exam score minimum requirements, and deadlines. Students enrolled in VESi courses are required to check their email for any communications regarding the course until their final grade is posted with the college or university. Once your course materials are received by VESi and have been reviewed, the GRADE IS FINAL.

Final Case Study Paper - Early Childhood: Observation & Assessment

After completing the examinations, you will be required to write a final case study paper. For this paper you will be required to choose a *child with whom you are working in your classroom, pre-school, or infant & toddler program. If you are not working in one of these settings or are not currently working with children in some educational capacity, you may choose a child from some alternate setting, e.g. home, family, neighborhood, church group, etc. This child should be one exhibiting possible developmental delays in some area, although a developmentally delayed child is not a requirement for this case study. You will complete an authentic assessment on the child in the areas of fine and gross motor development, speech and language development, socio-emotional development, and/or any area in which the child may be exhibiting abnormal development. This assessment will include standardized assessment tools as well as a minimum of four, one-hour, personal subjective observations in at least two different social settings. Based on your results, you will determine whether an individualized child development plan is required. If required, the remediation plan should include the content covering childcare research, DAP, developing a nurturing environment, behavior strategies, the five dimensions of learning, and play. Discuss the effectiveness of your plan on classroom management and your level of personal stress before and after attempting this remediation plan. You may also include your impressions of the course, pieces you enjoyed, sections that did not make sense or were not useful, or the overall value to you personally.

The paper should be a minimum of 3 pages in length, but no more than 7 pages (single spaced, 12 font). Only typed or word-processed papers will be accepted. 50% of your grade will be figured on your examination scores and 50% will be figured on your written assignments, including your final paper. You must complete all examinations with a minimum score of 70% or higher and complete ALL writing assignments to pass this course.

* It is your responsibility to find a student or child to work with and complete your final case study assignment. If you do not have a current classroom assignment, you may want to speak with a local school, child care facility, church or other community organization about a child for observation and assessment.

Textbook Reading Assignments and Exams

You are required to read Developmental Profiles: Pre-birth Through Twelve by Allen, E., & Marotz, L.R., and then you will take a 25-question examination to assess your comprehension of the material covered in the book. Grading Criteria

You must complete each examination with a minimum score of 70% or higher and complete ALL writing assignments to pass this course. This graduate level course requires a minimum passing grade of “C-” to receive credit. 50% of your grade will be figured on your examination scores and 50% will be figured on your written assignments, including your final paper. The average from your exam scores will be printed on your certificate. However, this is not your final grade since your required writing assignments have not been reviewed. Exceptionally written or poorly written required writing assignments, or violation of the academic integrity policy in the course syllabus, will affect your grade.

No grade will be submitted for partial completion of course assignments, regardless of partial scores.

You must pass each course examination. If you fail any chapter exam, you WILL NOT receive course credit.

Letter grades will be assigned as follows:

95% to 100% A	80% to 83% B-
90% to 94% A-	77% to 79% C+
87% to 89% B+	74% to 76% C
84% to 86% B	70% to 73% C-
